This letter will confirm that the property located at 530 Runnymede Road in Toronto qualifies for a laneway house build in the rear portion of the lot, under Toronto's "Changing Lanes" program.

I visited the property on February 23, 2026 and confirmed zoning, siting, emergency access and other appropriate qualifications to certify its eligibility.

The maximum size of a permitted as of right build appears to be approximately 1,312 square feet (over two floors - main and upper), with the ability to include an optional car garage on the main floor, with vehicle entry off the laneway.

A basement is also possible here, adding to the square footage above, but in most cases the floor plate of the basement will be significantly smaller than the ground floor and upper floors, the space cannot usually contain bedrooms or a bathroom or a kitchen, and the cost of basement construction can be significant.

Because of the relatively deep lot here, and a favourable positioning of the existing house on the lot, this property is somewhat unique in that it can support a laneway house near the maximum allowable build here as indicated above, while still allowing for a significant amount of optional car parking outside the laneway house. With this configuration, the proponent could choose to build the laneway house with interior parking, or no interior parking (all living space), while still maintaining some parking on the property, outside the laneway house, at the laneway.

It should be noted that current fire/emergency access regulations might require the owner of 530 Runnymede Road to enter into a “Limiting Distance Agreement” (LDA) with the neighbour at 532 Runnymede Road in order to build the laneway house. A positive “reciprocity principle” might be in effect here, as the owner of 532 Runnymede Road likely needs this LDA if they were to build a laneway house on their property.

The relatively new (2018) Changing Lanes program from the City of Toronto allows qualifying property owners to construct a laneway house “as of right” on their property, with simple building permit application and no political approval or committee of adjustment approval required. No variances are required and no appeals or “neighbour vetoes” are permitted. The city also waives development cost charges.

Should you have any questions about 530 Runnymede Road in particular, or the Changing Lanes program in general, please feel free to contact me any time, or visit our website.
